VMI Posts & Wraps

Viking's structural posts are ideal for home addition and new construction applications where structural posts are required.

Offering the beauty and elegance of clean white vinyl along with the strength and durability required of a load bearing post, our line has become Americas choice and should be yours as well.

Our commitment to quality and satisfaction is evident in our limited lifetime warranty offered on our VMI custom milled products. For complete warranty details, ask your local sales representative.

Check your local codes for structural post fastening regulations. Bolts included may not meet code.

VMI offers the clean elegance of vinyl with the strength of a load bearing post.

Our column wraps are designed to easily surround existing structural columns instantly transforming the look of your home to one of instant class and luxury. (Right)

Our vinyl color is applied when manufactured and is consistent throughout the product. The color will not chip or scrape off.

Although not required, painting is recommended to protect the routed decorative exposed edges from dirt.

With a variety of combinations and custom upgrades your unique look can be realized with VMI's line of custom millwork products.

VMI only offers the highest quality 100% virgin vinyl newell post. Manufactured using a double extrusion process, this product contains no impurities and no voids. This is why we can back all of our vinyl newell posts with a limited lifetime guarantee.

Our milled products will withstand the test of time, ensuring beauty and durability in even the harshest of weather conditions. Vikings' product line consists of both standard designs as well as fully custom created products.

VMI only produces the highest quality Cellular PVC newell posts. Cellular PVC is a solid extruded material with the working characteristics of wood. But unlike wood, it will never warp, decay, or discolor even in the worst of weather conditions. Because it is so durable, Cellular PVC is the most cost effective and environmentally friendly solution for any of your residential or commercial building projects.
